Empathy Map:

Phase of Journey	Stage 1: Pre-Event Preparation	Stage 2: At the Event	Stage 3: Post-Event Reflection
Actions What does the customer do?	1. Opens the webapp 2. Enters bio and event description 3. Requests conversation starters	1. Reviews generated starters 2. Requests fact-check 3. Uses a starter in a real conversation	1. Returns to the webapp 2. Reviews history 3. Submits thumbs up/down feedback
Touchpoint What part of the service do they interact with?	Streamlit input form (bio + event description fields)	Output display panel showing starters and fact-verification status	History/feedback view in the Streamlit app
Customer Thought What is the customer thinking?	I hope this actually understands my situation and isn't generic	Does this fact check out? Will this sound natural if I say it out loud?	Which of these starters actually worked well for me?
Customer Feeling What is the customer feeling?	Hopeful but slightly skeptical	Reassured and more confident	Satisfied, and more in control of future prep
Process Ownership Who is in the lead on this?	Streamlit frontend + event theme extraction	Wikipedia verification	FastAPI backend + local JSON logging
Opportunities How can we improve this stage?	Add example prompts/placeholder text to reduce blank-page anxiety	Add a "regenerate" option if the first starter doesn't feel natural	Surface most-liked past starters as reusable templates for future events
